Westford Public Schools

The following was part of my recent November update sent out to all of the WPS families on the first of the month:

As we enter the third month of this school year, we tend to lean into activities that ask us to be mindful of gratitude. I am incredibly grateful to be a part of such an amazing school system and have the privilege and opportunity to visit all of our wonderful schools regularly. Watching our staff interact with students is both humbling and inspiring. Those relationships ground powerful learning and Westford continues to focus on developing those relationships on a daily basis. Every Wednesday, I dedicate my schedule to working out of two of the different schools. One in the morning and one in the afternoon. This has provided plenty of opportunities for informal classroom visits and impromptu conversations with staff throughout the day as well as bring individuals who might not otherwise have cause to go to the school the chance to meet there rather than at central office. I am very appreciative to all of the principals for providing me a small corner/space to work in when I am not out and about visiting classes. A special thank you to all of the students and staff who have been so welcoming and gracious when greeting me in the halls and making me feel a part of each of the schools.

Since the beginning of the school year, many of our community partners have reached out to me with invitations to visit meetings and or tour facilities to better understand who they are and how WPS might partner with them to best support our students. Early on, I met with folks from WestfordCAT and was able to tour their facilities along with the new Podcast studio . The Healthy Westford Committee invited me to one of their virtual meetings in early October in which we had some wonderful conversations about school lunches and increased outdoor activities over the past year. Additionally, The League of Women Voters asked me to attend one of their virtual Civic Social events, as well, and provided some great feedback in terms of communication with the Town at large beyond our WPS families. I thoroughly enjoyed a tour of the Roudenbush Community Center and hearing more about Jenny the ghost including the potential impact she has had on the air conditioning on the third floor. Last week, Westford Rotary invited me to their October meeting and it was great to hear from some of the members on their previous opportunities of connecting with the schools and building partnerships. Those have just been a few of the conversations and I welcome having more in the near future.

Sincerely,

Chris

Westford Clean Energy and Sustainability Committee Update

Westford Climate Roadmap is Ready for Review

The Clean Energy and Sustainability Committee has completed the first version of Westford Climate Roadmap: A plan to reduce net greenhouse gas emissions to zero by 2050. The document's purpose is to plan specific and measurable actions to guide Westford's Town government, residents, and businesses to achieve net zero emissions of greenhouse gases (GHGs) by 2050. This is consistent with similar goals at local, state, national, and international levels. The initial version of this Roadmap serves as a baseline to be reviewed by the community and expanded and revised based on feedback from Town management, boards, residents, and businesses. It will continue to be refined and revised in future years as developments progress.

The development of Westford Climate Roadmap was assigned to the Clean Energy and Sustainability Committee based on a net zero resolution passed at Special Town Meeting in October 2020. The committee is looking forward to meeting with community members over the next several months to review and accept feedback on the plan.

Version 1 of the Roadmap and related documents can be found on the Clean Energy and Sustainability webpage.

The Westford Survey on Climate Change has closed and survey results will be published on the Clean Energy and Sustainability Committee webpage before the end of November. There will be opportunities for future community involvement in the Westford Climate Roadmap in informational sessions that will be scheduled over the next several months. Thank to everyone who participated in the survey!
