Yes. Who is responsible for Street signs?

Street signs are placed and maintained by the Highway Department. Regulatory signs (speed zones, stop signs etc.) are requested through the Police Department. Advisory signs (blind driveway etc.) Due to budget restraints the Highway Dept. no longer provides these signs. We caution residents that due to the proliferation of signs, most signs have little impact and placing them in front of other resident's homes can become an issue. Advisory signs are affected by Budget constraints.
